

Monthly Corporate Dashboard

Understanding the financial health of your company is critical. The information gained from a recurring and timely review process provides businesses with insight on where to focus on improvements, how money should be allocated, and provide comfort on the health of your projects and business. As a financial leader, the role entails growing the business and finding the time to review your monthly financials may not happen. Aronson's Monthly Corporate Dashboard provides you with knowledge, in a concise and interactive model, eliminating time spent gathering the data from multiple accounting system reports.

More than just Financial Statements

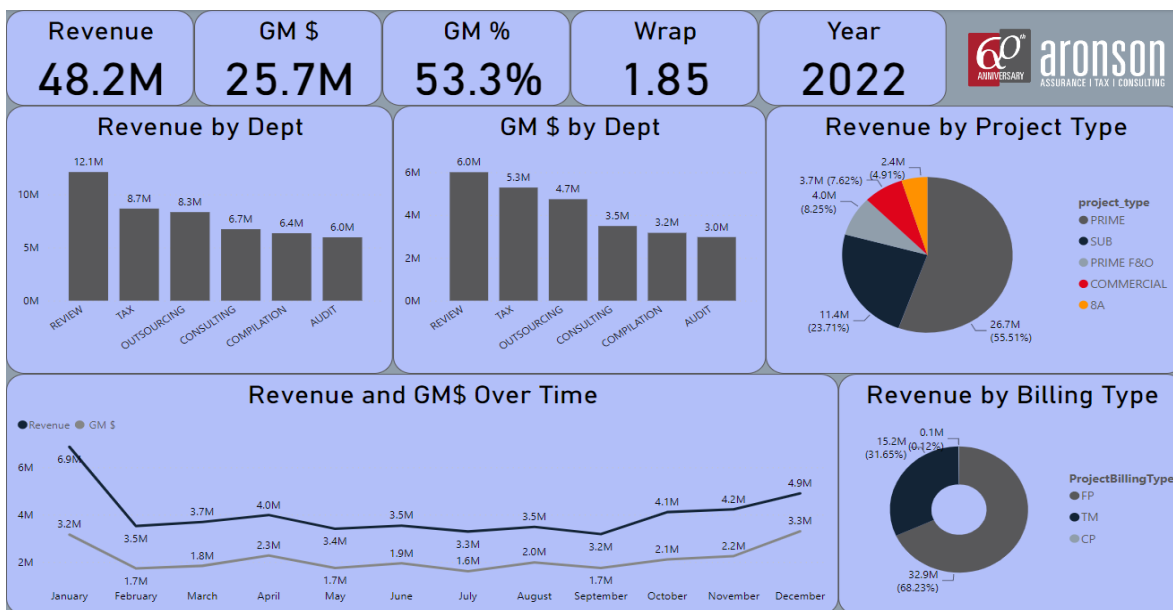

DATA PROVIDED

- Revenue, Gross Margin, EBITDA, and more
- Contract, Project, and Award Type
- Department, Customer, and Project views
- Direct and Indirect Costs
- Actual vs. Budget
- Utilization

BENEFITS

- Measurement of financial health
- Highlight growth and areas for review
- Focus efforts for improvement or continued success
- Growth drivers and related business costs
- Track performance to make informed decisions
- Identify capacity needs

Informed Business Leaders Guide Operational Success

Comprehensive Federal Contracting Expertise

With a national client base, our Government Contract Services Group helps our clients navigate the intricacies of doing business with the federal government, including DCAA, FAR, CAS, SBA, GSA, DFARS, and other regulations that impact government contractors. We provide specialized accounting, tax, and consulting services to 1000+ government contractors from emerging, to middle market, to large, and commercial companies entering the government market for the first time. Our clients service the full spectrum of government agencies.

Our Team

The corporate dashboard program is led by Brian Bender, CPA, with 20+ years of industry experience in both consulting and as a financial executive in federal contractor entities. Our team can not only help identify key business drivers and develop your most important tool for tracking and executing your business growth strategy, but provide ongoing subject matter expertise for accounting, financial, and industry matters. To discuss your specific needs, please email Brian Bender at: BMBender@aronsonllc.com